DAYTON'S NEW PARKING RULE IS JUSTIFIED

Automobiles of Every Make and Variety Crowd Streets on Sunday

"ACRE OF FOLK" PRESENT Louisiana Judge Arranges Vacation to Take Part in Scopes Trial

Dayton, Tenn.—Dayton city commissioners were chuckling Monday. Before the trial of John Thomas Scopes opened, Dayton had no rule against parking of automobiles and needed none. A far sighted city commission passed a "no parking" city ordinance. After being only a gesture for several days after its passage the new ordinance justified its existence Sunday and Monday. Automobiles of almost every make and model came to Dayton Sunday.

A Louisiana Judge will observe the evolution trial, Judge Jerry Cline, of the fourteenth Louisiana district, arranged his vacation that he might sit in on the proceedings.

OPEN ALL DAY SUNDAY
"Robinson's Drug Store, where it started," made a new record Sunday when a clerk appeared early in the day with a pot of paint and brush and lettered "open all day" on a window. The drug store had announced a departure from the custom of years. It had never been open all day on Sunday before. This action was good for the legs of Scopes' reporters in the town, for if one would see any person here he has but to "hang around" the place where it started and sooner or later the person he seeks will drop in.

Some of the many visiting newspapermen here for the Scopes trial are wearying Monday if they are "celebrities," a bill board announcement on Market street reads:
"Newspaper, celebrities welcome at the big tent." "East Lynne," "Way Down East" and other attractions that seem to go on indefinitely are presented under the "big tent."
"An acre" of folk were present when William Jennings Bryan spoke on the court house grounds Sunday. A man from the mountains is a good judge of crowds and area. Asked how many people were seated and standing near the speaker's platform and milling about the grounds, an unidentified man replied:
"An acre full." A city chap who measured crowds in thousands instead of square rods, guessed about 5,000.

FRENCH BUDGET FOR 1925 FINALLY VOTED

By Associated Press
Paris—After being sent from the chamber of deputies to the senate no less than six times, France's budget for 1925 was definitely voted long after dawn Monday morning. Finance Minister Caillaux remained in the bitter end, speaking in the senate and chamber at each reappearance of the measure and thus being prevented from going to the bedside of his wife, who was injured in an automobile accident near Angers Sunday. Decrees were read closing the senate's session at 5:45 Monday morning and the chamber's at 6:15. The Communists protested noisily as Premier Painleve read the decree.

The senate's vote of adoption was 273 to 6 and in the chamber there was merely a show of hands without debate.

UNCLE SAM OPENS GIN MILL TO GET DOPE ON DEALERS

Peoria, Ill.—Under the auspices of the "Uncle Sam's Place," the government went into the saloon business in Peoria two months ago, obtained the confidence of the city's illicit rum dealers and gathered evidence leading to wholesale raids in which nearly 200 arrests were made.
J. E. Asher and Max Hart's, Washington prohibition agents, came to Peoria in May, purchased a saloon and erected the sign, "Uncle Sam's place." Established bootleggers viewed the legal with considerable amusement and soon established connections with the newcomers, who began making purchases from dealers and rum runners, obtaining evidence against virtually every saloon in town.
The rum dealers found the laugh was on them when Uncle Sam's proprietors suddenly closed shop Saturday, went to the Federal building to meet 40 agents from Chicago and Washington, and began a systematic cleanup of the city, which extended until late Sunday night.

NEW OUTRAGES LEND WEIGHT TO KELLOGG DEMAND

British Missionaries Are Beaten and Cut by Chinese in Kwangtung

New York—Secretary of State Kellogg's announcement that the United States will insist on the protection of foreigners in China is given pith by the dispatches telling of a new outrage in the Province of Kwangtung.
Cantonese soldiers invaded the English Presbyterian mission at Muking and assaulted three missionaries, two of them women, beating them and cutting the mirth knives.
The Chinese also ordered all foreigners to leave the town for several days. The injured missionaries arrived there in an exhausted condition. The British consul upon hearing their story demanded an official apology from the Chinese authorities, punishment of the guilty persons and compensation of the injured missionaries.
The situation at Swatow is growing more critical daily.

VICTIM OF SUNSTROKE MAKES QUICK RECOVERY

Duluth, Minn.—"How's this for a comeback?"
Punctuating this remark by slapping himself on the chest, L. J. Chapman, Kansas City sunstroke victim who arrived in Duluth last Friday in a refrigerator loaded with eight tons of ice, walked jubilantly to shore Sunday from the steamer America at Washington Harbor, Isle Royale, a summer resort on Lake Superior. Word of Mr. Chapman's rapid recovery from the collapse caused by a Missouri heat wave last week was received here upon the return of the America.
Chapman's recovery was so rapid as to surprise even Dr. L. M. Lyons of Kansas City, the attending physician. When the boat docked Chapman arose, dressed and walked ashore unassisted.

U.S. Hopes To Clear Air In China As Paris Signs Pact

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1925 by the Post Pub. Co.
Swampscott, Mass.—Action by France in ratifying at last the customs treaty adopted by the nine powers in conference at Washington early in 1922, has made possible a forward step which both President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg hope will assist in solving the internal troubles of China. Nothing could be done for three years because of the situation in France, but now with the ratification accomplished the next move must be taken by the United States in summoning a conference to take place at Shanghai or Peking within three months, at which arrangements for administering the tariff will be made.

CUSTOMS WERE OBSTACLE
One of the chief obstacles to unity in China has been the right of various provincial governors and factional chiefs to collect customs internal. The abolition of the internal tariff is sought, and the strengthening of the central government at Peking by increasing its revenue is perhaps the most important of all.
There have been various inequalities in the application of tariffs by China and various countries, and the Washington conference attempted to harmonize the whole situation by making all the interested powers agree to a 5 per cent ad valorem duty.

This rate has theoretically been in effect before but in actual cash it has amounted only to 3 1/2 per cent. The powers now are to arrange to make it reach 5 per cent and this will mean at least $156,000,000 in six months to the revenue of China. As a member of the American delegation helped frame the tariff treaty and may be asked to assist in the first conference on administration though it is primarily a task for United States treasury officials.

DISCUSS OTHER PHASES
This is not the only phase of the Chinese problem which the secretary of state had to lay before President Coolidge on his visit here. The customs tariff treaty was adopted at the same time that the famous nine power pact was signed and this too has been ratified between the United States, Belgium, Great Britain, France, the Netherlands, Italy, Japan, Portugal and China. This embodies what are known as the "Root principles" because they were sponsored by Elihu Root as a member of the American delegation, appointed by the late President Harding. Two of the principles were the following:

"The powers agree to provide the fullest and most unembarrassed opportunity to China to develop and maintain for herself an effective and stable government."

"Whenever a situation arises which in the opinion of any one of them involves the application of the stipulations of the present treaty and renders desirable discussion of such application there shall be full and frank communication between the contracting powers concerned."

Green Bay—Charged with conspiring to violate the federal prohibition law, G. A. Walters, president of the Hagemaster Food Products Co., was arrested Monday morning by G. W. Garrett, deputy United States marshal, Milwaukee, on a complaint made by Ivan Kantcheff, federal prohibition agent.

At a hearing in Milwaukee Saturday, Federal Judge F. A. Geiger issued an injunction to restrain the company from violating the prohibition law by manufacturing beer.

50 ESCAPE DEATH ON BLAZING BOAT

Ferry Races from Midlake to Docks With Flames Gaining Headway

Spring Lake, Mich.—A blazing ferry boat, the comet, won a race with fire Sunday night when she docked here after a quick run from midlake and landed her fifty passengers who had been huddled in the stern as the flame bore steadily down upon them. Fire was discovered on the boat some distance from shore and the speed with which the boat made for this place served to fan the flames beyond control of the crew and the passengers many of whom were women and children.

As the boat slid against the dock here men aboard her helped the women and children ashore and then jumped on the dock. The boat, which ran between Grand Haven and Spring Lake was destroyed. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

Identification of the dead perhaps will never be possible owing to the condition of the bodies. Property loss probably will be several hundred thousand dollars.

MOTION CITES 14 REASONS TO KILL CHARGES

Defense Attorneys Present Argument That Law Violates Constitution

JUDGE WANTS BRIEFS Neale States Language of Bible Permits Many Interpretations

Courtroom, Dayton, Tenn.—Discussion of a motion by the defense to quash the indictment against John T. Scopes, charged with violating the Tennessee law against teaching of evolution theories in the public schools occupied the morning session of court Monday.
Presenting the motion, John R. Neale spoke first for the defense, followed by Arthur C. Hays presenting the same contention. Former Attorney General G. B. McKenna spoke in opposition to the motion with Sue K. Hicks, also of state counsel, making the last argument before the noon recess.

Judge Raulston just before ordering a recess until 1 o'clock said to the lawyers: "Gentlemen, the issues in this case are profound and the court does not wish to guess," adding that he would expect briefs to be filed on the motion to quash.

CAUSES FIRST CLASH

The motion to quash the indictment brought the first clash of the trial in the open forum of the court. John R. Neale, submitting the motion to quash, cited 14 reasons selected by the defense on which to base the motion. The contentions were, nearly all related to the constitutionality of the act, claiming that both the constitution of Tennessee and that of the United States were violated in the act of the Tennessee general assembly. Mr. Neale called the attention of the court to what he termed a general lack of information as to the power of the court to rule on the constitution. He said many otherwise well-informed lawyers did not know that the court has this authority and was sworn to uphold it as an officer of the state.

COURT IS DELAYED

Court was delayed 25 minutes in opening Monday morning. The delay was caused by the activities of newspaper and motion picture photographers.
The opening prayer was offered by the Rev. W. A. Moffitt, pastor of the First Baptist church of Dayton, O. The minister in his prayer included petition for the lawyers on both sides of the case and the newspapermen reporting the trial.
The attorney general announced that he wished to question one of the jurors and the other 11 retired while R. L. Gentry was interrogated.

READ INDICTMENT

The indictment was read. The defense moved to quash the indictment. John R. Neale making the motion. In making the motion to quash, the defense advanced 14 reasons, ten of which alleged the act forming the basis of the indictment violated various provisions of the Tennessee constitution and the constitution.

Passengers Blamed For Many Automobile Wrecks

Passengers of motor vehicles are given a large share of the blame for the high automobile accident rate in an American Automobile Association statement in which the need for better motor car passengers is featured equally with the need for better drivers.

Many accidents have their origin in the thoughts and actions of the members of the motor party, the A. A. A. holds, and the result is the automobile driver is often handicapped by the inexperience of the persons he transports.

The A. A. A. believes the time has come to motorize the automobile passenger.

"This work must supplement the job of motorizing the automobile driver," explains President Thomas P. Henry. "It goes without saying that the man at the wheel must acquire the motor sense of decency and safety, but there has been a regrettable tendency to overlook the hazards created by the people who sit in the tonneau."

Mr. Henry cites one accident where the driver's attention was distracted by a passenger's request to look at a remarkable bit of scenery while the car was in motion. Another incident revealed the driver becoming confused in traffic because he felt obliged to reply to a passenger's specific and rather complicated inquiry.

SINGING CAUSE OF DEATH

One of the most striking instances of passenger influence revealed in the A. A. A. statement is the case of a fatal accident which occurred as a result of the passengers insisting upon singing while driving, notwithstanding the fact that the driver was in the evening. The passengers raised their voices above the sound of the bell signal at the railroad crossing.

According to Mr. Henry, the passenger is morally obligated to assist the driver in handling the car with safety. The idea that it's all up to the driver, he says, is frequently the basis of a fatality.

"Many accidents have their origin in the actions of members of the motor party," declares Mr. Henry, "and even the thoughts of the passengers have their effect upon the driver. It is a serious handicap to the operator of the car and unless he is extremely skillful he is apt to get lost in the environment of his passengers' society and forget his responsibilities."

TAXI DRIVERS COOL HEADED

"The taxi driver is typical of the type of driver who can so harden himself to his passengers as not to be influenced by them. Tell a passenger-car driver that you are nervous and to be particularly careful to shift gears calmly and the chances are ten to one that he will drive like a dud. Tell the same story to a taxi driver and he'll just drive in his usual way. I won't affect him one way or the other."

"A taxi driver is experienced in carrying a variety of passengers, whereas the passenger-car driver carries comparatively few persons in the course of a year and is thus inclined to be very conscious of his 'guests' when they are abroad. If passengers elect to be hilarious when in a taxi the operator gives them very little thought. They are simply fares."

AIRPLANE TAKES NOSE DIVE INTO LAKE WINNEBAGO

Chamberlain's New Curtiss Plane Wrecked in Accident Sunday Afternoon

Considerable excitement was afforded people at Waverly beach late Sunday afternoon when a Curtiss biplane owned and piloted by C. Chamberlain took a sudden nose dive into the lake about 100 feet from the shore. Chamberlain and his mechanic, William Rossman, were the only occupants of the plane. Mr. Chamberlain suffered a cut under his right eye, but Mr. Rossman escaped unhurt. Mr. Chamberlain had recently brought this new plane from Milwaukee and was flying it Sunday with a view to testing out the plane and taking up passengers later. About 6:30 as Mr. Chamberlain was coming out of a turn spin low over the lake, the plane struck an air pocket, and dropped nose forward into the water. The biplane is a wreck. The wings and propeller were completely demolished. The motor may be salvaged.

Mr. Chamberlain also is the owner of the large hydroplane at Waverly beach which was wrecked last month by a high wind which tore the wings to pieces while the plane was moored out on the lake two blocks from shore. New wings are expected to arrive soon for the hydroplane, and the machine will then be put in running order. The hydroplane is a former government bomber with a wing spread of 70 feet. It carries seven passengers.

HEAR REPORT ON INDIANS' CLAIM

Mrs. O. J. Kellogg of Seymour gave a report on the progress which has been made in the lawsuit of the Oneida Indians against certain corporations of New York state to recover damages for the illegal sale of Indian property, at a mass meeting of Oneida Indians in the parish hall at Oneida Sunday afternoon.

New York corporations are said to have illegally acquired thousands of acres of land rightfully belonging to the Six Nations, who formerly lived in western New York. The Oneidas, one of the tribes of the Six Nations, were brought from New York state to Wisconsin and placed on the reservation which now bears their name.

Mrs. Kellogg recently returned to Syracuse, N. Y., where she assisted in the preparation of a suit against the St. Lawrence River Power Co., which is to be used as a test case. The defendants have retained H. C. and K. P. Hale of Canton, N. Y., as their attorneys. Mrs. Kellogg's report included the details of the suit up to date.

JUNE MONTH OF ECONOMY, CITY REPORT SHOWS

Expenses Were About $11,000 Below Average—Balance Exceeds Half Million

With $29,134 spent from the general fund, June was an economical month in administration of city affairs, according to the monthly report submitted by F. E. Bachman, treasurer, to the mayor and common council. The cash balance on hand in all funds on June 30, 1925 was $551,655.58.

Expenses of the city seldom average less than $40,000 a month, especially in the summer season. With only $29,000 spent, therefore the city has a chance to conserve against the future. The general fund had a balance of $316,375.24 on July 1, with which to pay the remaining general expenses of the year. This gives the council an average of about $52,700 a month with which to carry on the city's business.

The city had a balance of $668,199.52 on May 30, 1925 and receipts during June amounted to $22,643. The largest single item was money paid in by the waterworks department totaling $13,246.75.

Disbursements for June from all funds were $62,480.16. A total of $7,525 was paid out of the junior high school fund and $6,955.95 from the senior high school fund. Withdrawals in the vocational school fund were $7,632.57. Payments made from the waterworks fund were $11,303.93. Balances in the various funds as of June 30, 1925, were: General fund, $216,375.24, bridge fund $749.44, junior high school $84,738.80, senior high school $16,340.93, junior high bond interest account $35.13, junior high operating account $40,438.74, vocational school $19,257.25, library $5,012.64, police pension $550, firemen's pension $5,671.11, waterworks bond interest account $2,240, park board $11,109.58, waterworks fund $19,923.86, waterworks reserve $4,903.66, investment balances were: Library fund $500, police pension $5,937.65, firemen's pension $19,130.23, waterworks $50,000.

Total invested funds are $74,667.58; total cash balances, $551,655.58; grand total, all funds, $626,323.46.

PLANT MILLIONS OF YOUNG PIKE

Fish "Born" in Hatcheries Have Excellent Chance to Live

Approximately 104,000,000 young pike were hatched in Wisconsin hatcheries this spring and have been distributed in inland lakes and rivers throughout the state. Distribution of commercial fish such as whitefish, lake trout and Lake Erie cisco was also completed when the last shipment recently sent out, brought the total to 31,227,000.

Distribution of the several kinds of trout is not yet finished inasmuch as the period of incubation for trout is much longer than that of pike, and the young fish may be kept in the hatcheries for a longer time after hatching than pike young fish may. The length of time young fish may be kept away from their natural habitat where they would be forced to shift for themselves depends partly on the nature of the so-called "sack." The "sack" is the major portion of the egg, which after the young fish is hatched, serves as a reserve supply of food. The pike comparatively feed from its sack and must be shifted to its natural home soon after being hatched. Trout, however, will live for a long time on their reserve food supply.

Although a young fish when transplanted from a hatchery back to its natural waters is usually only a half inch to an inch long, its chances for life and growth are a thousand times greater than if it were still in the egg stage. Under natural conditions, the mortality rate is extremely high, probably only about one tenth of one per cent of all the eggs laid develop into full grown fish. The rest are destroyed by other fish, never hatch, or are eaten while very young. In hatcheries, however, a much higher percentage become young fish. It is estimated that about 66 per cent of the pike eggs taken to a hatchery become young fish, while from 75 to 85 per cent of the trout spawn hatch. Once hatched, the young fish has much greater chances for life, if left to its own resources, than a new born baby would have. Its reserve supply of food keeps it alive until it grows large enough to search for its own food.

HEAR S. APPLETON-ST OBJECTIONS JULY 23

Owners of property abutting on S. Appleton-st. hill have been notified of a meeting of the board of public works July 23 to hear objections to paving assessments. The session will be held at 10 o'clock in the morning at the city hall.

S. Appleton-st. hill from W. Lawrence-st. to W. Prospect-ave bridge is to be paved with reinforced concrete, according to plans adopted recently by the common council. The amount assessed against each piece of property for the work is on file in the office of E. L. Williams, city clerk, and any objections may be filed with the board at its meeting. The First Congregational church and C. P. Smith, liveryman, are the taxpayers principally affected.

DAPPLE GREYS OF WORKING TEAMS PROMOTED TO PERFORMING RINGS

"Promoted."

That in a word tells the story of the fine dapple grey, who, having pulled a "lead" in many a team hitched to a red wagon from the Penobscot to the Pacific, is at last taken from the working ranks and made a performer.

With the mammoth Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey shows the chances are not great. There are more than 600 working horses but it is not often that a "rosin-back" is recruited from them. Yet opportunity knocks now and then. And when it does Tom Lynch, boss of all the baggage stock, will tell you that expectancy actually seems to be in the air as Jim Dial, of the ring stock stable, walks among the veterans bent upon picking one from their number.

When the selection is made the recruit is lead away to his new quarters. For the first few days he is merely allowed to stand "behind the scenes" that he may grow used to the color, the romp and the glare of the band. Then his education begins in the rings. But always between shows. This training will go on for a month perhaps. He will be "gaited," taught the "stops" and the "starts"—everything that a fine rider's mount must know. Then, finally, there comes the day when he is to make his first appearance before an audience. Always his master or mistress cheers him on with a smile. And it's a tradition that just before entering the "big top" the tyro must have a pat and a word from a clown. Briefly, that is the way the riding horses are "kept up." Splendid equestrianism is a marked feature with the Greatest Show on Earth this season. BALLY HOO MAN MIGHT SOLVE THIS NUISANCE

Force of habit is stronger than eyesight to most persons who have bills to pay at the city water department office. Many steps and time are wasted every day because patrons do not seem to realize that the offices have been moved.

Rooms at the right of the council chamber that formerly housed the water department now are used entirely by the engineering department. Quarters of the water office are on the south side of the council chamber at the end of a corridor where the city assessor formerly was located. Conspicuous signs have been placed on the walls to indicate where the water department offices are. In spite of these one person after another ascends the stairway and walks straight to the engineering office without planning at the signs. It keeps employees of the department busy informing people to go to the other side of the hall.

Even with proper guide signs put up, many cannot find the new water offices. They are instructed where to go but instead of following the signs they walk into the board of education office and have to be instructed once more. City employees will feel relieved when the changes have been in effect long enough to accustom the public to the change.

Mark Catlin has gone to Ashland to spend ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rose and Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Rose have returned to their home at Newwood Park, Ill., after spending the week visiting at the P. M. Conkey home in this city.

BIG POWERHOUSE TO BE BUILT AT FOX RIVER DAM

Green Bay and Mississippi Canal Company to Build at Croche Rapids

Construction of a new power unit on the Fox river is in prospect, pending sanction by the United States government of the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal company's plan to build a power house at the Rapid Croche dam about four miles below Kaukauna. The city of Kaukauna will benefit directly by the project.

William Van Nortwick, treasurer of the company, denied a report that permit for the project had been granted. While there is good reason for success of the project, the full authority for it has not yet been granted, he said.

The proposed power house will cost in the neighborhood of a half million dollars and will generate 3,800 horsepower. The rapids here have a head of about 3.4 feet. Conditional agreements have been drawn up whereby the plant will be in operation about March 1, but it is possible that the plant may be completed by Jan. 1.

Plans have been practically agreed upon whereby the Kaukauna electrical department will take a long lease on the power house, possibly for 20 years. It is proposed to operate both the new and the present plant from the Badger powerhouse of Kaukauna. The city intends to cancel its old lease which expires in 1932 and enter into a new one on the same basis, that of the kilowatt hour, for the long term period.

Kaukauna has not had enough power to supply all its customers and has been forced to buy 1,500 k. w. from Appleton. With the operation of this new plant, the city will have about 14,000 horsepower all of which has been contracted for.

A transmission line will be extended to the Badger power house and distribution will be made from there.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Rossmelss and Mr. and Mrs. George Shimmers have returned from a trip to Fish Creek. Miss Barbara Shimmers has returned to her home in Appleton after a three weeks visit in Milwaukee.

RUMORS AND COAL

Certain newspapers have been issuing warnings to load up on coal immediately and avoid the expected famine due to a strike this fall. Even if the strike were absolutely certain the Post-Crescent would hesitate to pass along such advice.

In 1920 the United States had a buyers' panic due to rumors of this kind growing out of railroad difficulties. Herbert Hoover became interested, and set himself to inquiring just what good it really had done people to rush in their supply.

He discovered that the stocks of coal above ground at the actual time of the panic were above normal. The mines were running at more than 80 per cent capacity. A ton of soft coal at the mines was selling for less than $4. When the public became frightened and rushed in its orders, coal bids soon ran up to $15 a ton. If the public had waited the mine profiteers would have been foiled and the railroad difficulties would have straightened themselves out in ample time to handle the situation.

A strike may be, or may not be, worse than a railroad tie-up. There is reported to be a large stock of coal stored above ground, which the operators and wholesalers hope to sell at a considerable profit if their employees will only be kind enough to strike or if there is another genuine buyer-panic. Why start the fright now, many months in advance of any necessity?

A perfectly intelligent practice is that of buying coal on contract in the spring for summer delivery to keep mines running, men employed and distribution spread out sensibly through the year. That stabilizes price. Panic buying, such as is now urged in fear of a strike, has just the opposite effect.

Some time the public will tire of being ground between the upper and nether millstones of coal strikes and their rumors, which are in effect if not in truth a joint conspiracy of employer and employee to extract excessive profits. Meanwhile the best consumers can do is to keep calm.

SOME CODES OF ETHICS

Business codes of ethics have sometimes been cynically described in this country as promises we would live up to if we could. But even the consciousness on the part of business that it has obligations of honor is a good thing, and from that standpoint a number of codes recently collected by the United States Chamber of Commerce are worthy of attention.

If, for instance, your baker adulterates or misrepresents his products, he is forfeiting self-respect as a baker who lives up to the common code of his peers in the American Bakers association, reading:

I will use no materials or ingredients other than those of known purity and wholesomeness in the manufacture of my products; I will at all times adhere rigidly to the truth in all my advertising; I will keep my plant and premises at all times as clean and sanitary as is humanly possible, and welcome public inspection at all times. I shall expect of my employees what the public has a right to expect of me, that we keep ourselves morally and physically clean.

Perhaps the most interesting and general code is that of the Credit Men, who attack one of the broadest abuses:

It is improper for a business man to participate with a lawyer in the doing of an act that would be improper and unprofessional for the lawyer to do. The pledged word upon which another relies is sacred among business gentlemen. The order for a bill of goods upon which the seller relies is the pledged word of a business man.

Of course the time has not yet arrived when the business man concerned in such a deal would be ostracized as effectively as a lawyer can be disbarred. Perhaps it will never be possible or even wise to set up a professional association for the merchant or manufacturer as influential as the American Bar association and the local lawyers' groups. But the day when to be dishonest in business will become an unprofitable practice, and men will learn to observe not only the letter of the law but the spirit of justice, draws appreciably nearer with the general acceptance and understanding of codes like the above.

Already, it may be noticed, honest advertising has gained recognition as the best advertising. A consensus of opinion can often accomplish more than any number of bluecoats.

ORIGINAL SINNERS

The theologians have a doctrine of "original sin." The public is interested in finding the "original sinners."

A five-year-old boy was arrested in St. Paul recently as the leader of a "gang" of petty thieves. The police who took him home discovered that his father was in state's prison and his mother would not admit him to the home because he was a "bad boy" and she could do nothing with him and would assume no more responsibility.

Who was the original sinner, and at whom should the forces of the law be directed?

The dispatches do not tell much about the child's background but we can guess. That boy was, without doubt, "born into sin." He had lived all of his life in an atmosphere of law evasion, duty denials and rebellion against authority. He had come to believe that this was the essence of life. He knows no other standards.

While the churches are talking about "salvation" they might turn their attention profitably to these "second generation sinners." There is no salvation for them except a new environment—a new set of surroundings and new standards of life—in which they can be tempted to goodness.

Youth accepts what it finds—ideals, advantages, amusements, schools, libraries, sex theories. It is not responsible for making these things. It only appropriates. The original sinner is the one who sets up false standards—usually some veteran sinner who makes money out of teaching others to sin.

The law imprisons the second generation sinner but business pays the original sinner a profit.

Churches, parent-teachers associations, and such organizations are just beginning the battle. The warfare of intelligent social reform will be waged against the "original sinners" tomorrow.

CIRCUS

There is a banker who visits the circus every time it comes to town.

And he seems to get as much of a thrill out of it as the youngsters of 10.

Some folk might say that this man's bank would not be best to do business with, that the banker is too "flighty." But it's this man's ability to get a thrill out of a circus that has raised him to his present position.

For circuses really appeal to the imagination only. There is nothing remarkable about them except what's in the mind of the spectator.

And this banker's imagination has always been young. This imagination has discovered stepping stones to success that older brains would not have visioned.

There are too many people who declare the circuses aren't as good as when they were young. Fact is, circuses are better. Their imagination only is not so good.

These are the days the boss gets mad when he finds things went along nicely while he was away fishing.

LIGHT ON LIGHT

Ultraviolet (invisible) light from direct sunlight or from the electric arc lamp or the mercury vapor quartz lamp, will kill bacteria and some of the higher organisms (protozoa) in a thin layer of clear water in a few seconds; apparatus for this purpose devised by Thresh and Beattie sterilized from 50 to 200 gallons of water per hour, depending on the character of the water. Colon bacilli are killed in 15 to 20 seconds; typhoid germs in 10 to 20 seconds, cholera germs in 10 to 15 seconds; some of the more resistant spores in 30 to 60 seconds, with a Cooper-Hewitt mercury vapor lamp having a quartz lens instead of glass, and a current of six amperes, 130 volts.

It is necessary to remind the technically untutored reader that this ultraviolet ray or light has nothing to do with the toy known to the gullible as "violet ray" apparatus. Violet rays have no more remedial, germicidal or curative virtue than red, green or yellow rays of light, practically speaking. Ultraviolet rays are the invisible rays beyond the violet in the spectrum or rainbow; they cause the chemical change in the photographer's sensitive plate or film and in the medical or physical changes brought about by exposure of the living organism to sunlight or other source of ultraviolet energy or influence. Sunburn or tanning is not the only effect of exposure of the body to sunlight. Rickets has shown the world how the ultraviolet rays of sunlight wherever a clear atmosphere occurs will cure tuberculosis; and before Rollier introduced the sun bath treatment at Leysin in the Swiss Alps Finsen had discovered the power of ultraviolet rays to cure lupus (skin tuberculosis) and other bacterial or medical diseases.

Recently our own research workers have demonstrated by animal experimentation that the ultraviolet ray has the power to protect animals and man from the tendency to develop rickets when the food is deficient in the vitamin which prevents rickets. Exposure to ultraviolet light, either from direct sunlight or from the arc lamp or the mercury vapor quartz lamp, is now a well established method of treating rickets in the earliest stage of the disease.

Dr. Alfred H. Hess, New York pediatricist, has found, with his workers in this field, that food substances which ordinarily carry little or none of the essential vitamin may be made capable of preventing rickets by irradiation with ultraviolet light; even vegetable oils may be rendered almost as effective against rickets by this means as cod liver oil is.

Some research workers of the Great Britain medical research council recently proposed that the mysterious quality of the open air, of fresh air, which distinguishes pure air from dead, foul, impure confined air, may be a physiological potency acquired from this activity by ultraviolet light. We have always fancied that the air of mountain regions has some health giving virtue not so noticeably present in the air in the valleys. We have long believed that the open air, the outdoor air, is more healthful than indoor air, all other physical or chemical features being equal. This suggestion of the British physiologists has not been substantiated as yet.

Dr. John B. Todd of Syracuse whose introduction of the cloth window screen method of ventilation for school rooms and other rooms indirectly brought about the scrapping of many thousands of dollars worth of mechanical ventilation equipment in New York schools, put forward this same idea of a possible vitamin in fresh air prior to the British research workers' allusion to it, I think.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

No Suspenders or Neckties.

Is it the law that a doctor has to make a visit and throw in the second call in a confinement case, that is, one call free? (J.G.A.)

Answer: No, new is it the law that a merchant had throw in a pair of suspenders or give a necktie free with a pair of pants. Then happy days are over. If a merchant offers free suspenders or free necktie today we know there's something wrong with his clothes. You had better beware of the doctor who gives free calls as a premium.

"YERBA MATE" IS HERB OF HEALTH

You Must Be Polite and Learn to Drink It if You Travel in Argentina

Leonard Matters, in The London Daily News.

When you enter an Argentine country home the master or mistress first assures you that the house is entirely your own and then, hastily pouring water from the ever-ready kettle into a little black gourd with a silver tube protruding from it says, "Please."

If familiar with the etiquette of the pampas you take the queer little pot, apply your lips to the tube, imbibing liquid that is blistering hot and bitter and wish to heaven the same etiquette permitted you to refrain from swallowing it—that is, if it is your first encounter with "yerba mate."

Nobody with anything like a normal palate can honestly declare at such a moment that the national drink of Argentina is anything but what it resembles—a perfect sample of liquid fire, made 10 times worse with gall and wormwood. There will come a time, however, when you will feel otherwise about it, for a liking for this herb tea develops, as in the case of new pipes, new shoes, or strange drinks, by usage and custom.

The beverage is an infusion of the leaves and stalks of a bush known to botanists as Ilex Paraguayensis—hence the name for it, in English of Paraguayan tea. It is indigenous to Paraguay and Brazil, and is now being cultivated in some parts of the Argentine. In most of the South American republics the country people are inveterate drinkers of mate. Darwin described the beverage as "the ideal drink," and many an English man and woman has confirmed the accuracy of his judgment.

The method of preparing yerba mate is simple enough. It can be brewed in an ordinary teapot to be served with milk and sugar, but the water used should not be boiling. In the Argentine and elsewhere it is rarely taken in any other form than strong and bitter, and almost invariably through the bombilla, or tube by which it is imbibed from the mate, or gourd.

In the beverage are all the virtues of tea and coffee and none of their vices. At any rate there are no fitter or healthier people in the world than the Argentine country folk who drink mate all day and would rather go without food than be deprived of it.

DUST LADEN AIR WORKS CHANGES

Vast Areas Are Covered by Clouds of Sand Carried Long Distances by Winds

(Charles Fitzhugh Talman in Nature Magazine.)

Winds charge the atmosphere with millions of tons of dust every year and it is often carried to great distances before it settles to the earth. In China an area of some 300,000 square miles is covered to a depth of hundreds and even thousands of feet with a fine yellowish soil called "loess," which is supposed to have been brought by the winds from the deserts and dry steppes of central Asia.

In March, 1901, a series of dust storms occurred in the northern Sahara and the dust, after being whirled upward by cyclonic winds to a great altitude, was eventually deposited over most of western Europe, to a distance of 2,500 miles from the place of origin. An elaborate study was made of this "dustfall" by two German meteorologists, Hellmann and Meinardus, who estimated that no less than 1,800,000 tons of the deposit fell over the continent of Europe as much more over the Mediterranean.

On the African coast the deposit is supposed to have amounted to 150,000,000 tons. A reddish haze, due to dust blown from the Sahara, is frequently encountered by vessels in the region between the Canaries and the Cape Verde islands. This haze probably gave rise to the reports of a sea darkness that figure in the narratives of early Atlantic navigators.

Volcanic eruptions sometimes spread a veil of dust over a great part of the globe. The remarkable "dry fog" of 1783, which prevailed for several months in both Europe and North America, was the result of volcanic eruptions in Iceland and Japan.

The dust that hung in the upper air for some years after the outbreak of the East Indian volcano Krakatoa, in 1883, was responsible for gorgeous sunset glows and other optical phenomena, observed in this country and elsewhere.

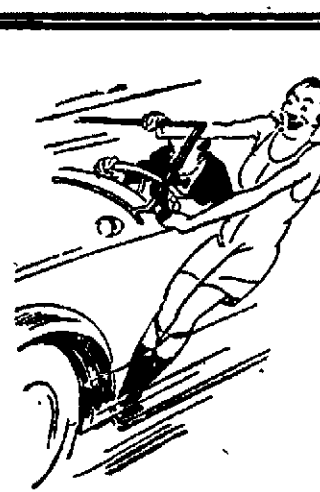

SHELLEY'S SPIRIT STILL HAUNTS ITALIAN COAST

(From On the Margin. By Aldous Huxley.)

The landscape fairly quotes Shelley at you. This sea with its luminous calms and sudden tempests, these rim blue islands hull down the horizon, these mountains and their marvellous clouds, these rivers and woodlands are the very substance of his poetry. Live on this coast for a little and you will find yourself constantly thinking of that lovely, that strange, childish poetry, that beautiful and child-like man.

Perhaps his spirit haunts the coast. It was in this sea that he sailed his flimsy boat, steering with one hand and holding in the other his little volume of Eschylus. You picture him so on the days of calm. And on the days of sudden violent storm you think of him, too. The lightning cuts across the sky, the thunders are like terrible explosions overhead, the squall comes down with a fury.

What news of the flimsy boat? None, save only that a few days after the storm the young body was washed ashore, unrecognizable, the little Eschylus in the coat pocket is all that tells us that his name was Shelley.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

AN OLD-TIME ICONOCLAST

I have just been reading a book of essays called "Essays, Literary, Moral and Philosophical," and here are some of the things championed or opposed in the book: The study of Latin and Greek in colleges is opposed for the general student; that is, for all except a few who wish to make languages their life work. The author also opposes any form of corporal punishment for children. He thinks it wrong to use the oath in court. He does not want jail called a penal institution but wants it designated by some name that will give the impression that it is more a hospital than a place of punishment. He is passionately against capital punishment for murder or any other crime. He wants a secretary of peace in the president's cabinet to correspond to the secretary of war. He is very strongly against the use of liquor and not only but just as strongly opposed to the use of tobacco and would have it prohibited. He is, however, contradictory though it may seem, a very strong defender of the youth movement and thinks that the young ought to have more rights than they have.

ON OLDTIMER

Perhaps you think these essays are from the pen of an ultra-modern—a pacifist, prohibitionist, criminologist, a woman's rights advocate, a defender of the flapper. You are all wrong. The book is from the pen of one of the "Revolutionary fathers." Not only that, but this particular "Revolutionary father" was one of the signers of the declaration of Independence and a man of great influence and high standing in the young republic.

His name is Benjamin Rush. He held the degree of M. D. and after the Revolutionary war he was professor of the institute of medicine and clinical practice in the University of Pennsylvania. The essays in the volume were published in various magazines in Philadelphia soon after the close of the Revolution and they were collected in the book form in which we read them, in 1788. That they were well received is proved by the fact that it is the second edition of the work.

In themselves the essays of Benjamin Rush are not remarkable. Some of the things he advocates are commonplace today and the literary style of the book is just ordinary. But the reading of the volume is a genuine adventure when it is remembered who the writer was and when he wrote. HE SAW FAR Imagine a pacifist immediately after the Revolutionary war and that pacifist a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Imagine some one coming in out in print in 1778 in opposition to capital punishment for murder, in a day when in England a man could be put to death for stealing a sheep! And imagine that writer using identically the same arguments that were used in Michigan in the spring of 1925 against the capital punishment bill in the legislature!

And what must our good forefathers who fought the Revolutionary war have thought of the signer of the Declaration of Independence who was asked to take their drinks away from them and their tobacco? The word Bolshevism had not yet been invented but it would most certainly have been applied to Rush if our forefathers had known it.

And then about the study of Latin and Greek. While that study still has many defenders today, there are many others who regard the time devoted to it in the colleges by the general student as more or less wasted. But in Benjamin Rush's day the study of Latin and Greek was practically the whole college course. A college education was "nothing else but," Benjamin Rush showed that a genuine iconoclast he was by heaping scorn upon the pedants who thought that English could best be learned by first learning a foreign language.

Benjamin Rush must have been a man worth knowing. He bristles with ideas that go against the grain of his day and he was very definitely in accord with the "current platitudes" of his age. Some of the ideas he advanced have since become platitudes but it is very likely that if he were living today Benjamin Rush would be advocating things that will be platitudes a hundred years hence.

The Question Box

Even Uncle Sam is inquisitive. Just now he is trying to discover the most popular sizes of women's stockings, the chewing power of false teeth, whether a solar eclipse interferes with radio, and how tough beef is. There are but a few of the new problems the Bureau of Standards is working on. This branch of the Government, as well as all the other departments, is constantly engaged in research and investigations that will benefit the American citizen. LETTER FROM PAULA PERIER TO SYDNEY CARTON

Mon Ami: You cannot tell how I appreciated your letter. You cannot possibly know what it all meant to me, for being a man, you cannot realize that women never forget.

Syd, I wish I could forget it all. I pray unceasingly that I may. I want to just blot out that part of my life in which I knew John Alden Prescott.

This may sound unkind to you, my friend who has always been so sweet to me, and to whom I turned in my darkest hour and found comfort and solace, but even at the cost of forgetting you, dear Syd, I wish I could forget.

Yes, I want to forget it all, including you, because the memory makes me ashamed. No, do not jump at conclusions. I am not ashamed of that time when I knew John Alden Prescott. I am not ashamed of that time when I thought I was living in heaven and not on earth. I am not ashamed of the Paula Perier who loved much and who for that love was crucified—I am ashamed of the Paula Perier of today, the worker, the woman of the world, the woman of ambition. I am ashamed because after having loved a man as I loved Jack, after thinking the world well lost for that man, I find I do not love him any more. I find that what I thought was great love was only love, opportunity and the call of the blood, and I had not strength to resist.

I am ashamed because the passion I felt was not deathless. In fact that passion has died a painless death long ago. Today I am moved at the sound of my lover's name. Today I never think of him at all and it makes me ashamed that all that has happened could have happened and left so small a scar upon my soul.

It is hard, my friend to make myself understand my feelings and my attitude. Consequently I expect it will be doubly hard to make you understand. As dreadful as it would be, I would have liked to have kept on loving Jack. It would make me feel as though I were a cleaner woman. A great love is a great soul cleanser. I love my boy—but even when I unreasonable love him, he held so kind of pride and affection. I know myself as I am and I sometimes am afraid that I am a light woman.

Out of the whole cataclysm only two things remain which I can remember without sadness. These are your great kindness to me when I needed it most and Leslie Prescott's standing that is not human for into it there creeps no prejudice, no pretence, only divine love for all creatures and a divine pity for all their mistakes.

Perhaps, Syd a knowledge that there is a woman of that kind in this world is worth all I have paid for it.

Am called on the set now. Will finish this letter tomorrow. (Copyright, 1925, NEA Service, Inc.)

GOOD COOKING ASSURED FOR GIRLS IN CAMP

A special effort is being made this summer by the directors of Camp Onaway to furnish the campers with food which will not only be nutritious and wholesome, as all camp food must be, but which will appeal to the very faintest appetites. Miss Eleanor Halls, who is in charge of the cuisine, has been collecting recipes from some of the best cooks in Appleton in order that the camp menus may include delicious as well as nourishing food.

Any mothers who have kept good, workable recipes for some future use, are asked to share them for a little while so that the scouts may come home with glowing reports of the good meals they had in camp. Hungry girls are not very particular about fancy dishes, but they do know when they have been well fed. And a balanced diet is essential while the strenuous exercise of scout living is going on if the girls are to come home with enough strength and endurance stored up to last through the winter.

ASK AUXILIARY TO CHARTER FETE

New London auxiliary of the American legion has extended an invitation to the Appleton American Legion auxiliary to attend its charter night celebration on Thursday evening, July 23. There is to be a banquet and all who desire places are asked to notify the New London officers beforehand.

There will be a program and informal reception following the banquet.

Adventures Of The Twins

AT THE PHOTOGRAPH MAN'S

Snitcher Snatch led Mister Whizz and the Twins a merry chase. By the time they had jumped into their tiny aeroplane to follow him, he was leagues and leagues away.

You have no idea how fast a goblin can travel, once he gets started. But finally they caught up—Nancy and Nick and Mister Whizz did—just as the little rascal was going into a photograph gallery. A photograph gallery is a place where you get your picture taken.

"I'll just park my aeroplane in this vacant lot across the street," said Mister Whizz. "Then we'll follow him. I can't imagine what he is going into a photograph gallery for. He isn't so handsome that anyone would want his picture, unless maybe it might be his mother or some of his relatives. I'm sure that I should not give it room on my mantelpiece."

Nancy laughed. "Poor Snitcher Snatch!" she said. "His nose is so long I don't believe the photograph man could get it all in the picture."

"No," agreed Mister Whizz. "He'd have to do like they do in stories, sometimes, and if the first card wouldn't hold it all, say to be continued and put the rest of his nose on another."

I don't know whether the Twins knew what he was talking about or not, but anyway it doesn't matter. They all got out the aeroplane as fast as they could and followed the bad little goblin into the photograph gallery.

The front room had a velvet carpet on the floor, and nice comfortable chairs all about, and dozens of pictures on the walls.

But no one was there—no sign of the person they were after, at least. "We'll just take a peep in here," said Mister Whizz, going to a doorway and beckoning to the children to follow.

They pulled the curtain aside just in time to see a most interesting thing. The photograph man had his head

APPLETON FOLKS AT GREEN BAY MOOSE PICNIC

A number of Appleton people attended the picnic given by the Loyal Order of Moose Sunday at Green Bay. One of the features of the afternoon was a double drill given by members of the Green Bay order of Moose and the legion. A bouillabaisse supper was served in the evening to about 500 persons. The picnic was given for Moose, the legion and friends.

Among the Appleton people who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hauert and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Aures and daughter, Margaret, Mrs. Clara Groth and Anton Rank.

Under a black cloth behind a camera, and a lady was sitting on a chair before it, trying to look as pleasant as possible.

"Now don't move until I count up to five," said the photograph man. "Just keep on looking at that little bird, and stay the way I fixed you. One, two, three—" he started to count slowly.

At that minute a little figure on top of a screen behind the lady's back, blew something out of his hand and the lady wrinkled up her face something awful.

"Hey there! That don't do! Stay the way I fixed you. Smile!" said the photograph man.

"I—I—I'm trying," said the lady. "But I have to—ahchoo! Ahchoo! Ahchoo! There I'm all right now."

"Then we'll try again," said the photograph man getting behind his cloth again. "Look at the little bird, please. One, two, three, four—"

"Ahchoo!" went the lady again, quite suddenly.

For again the little goblin had blown some more stuff right at her. "My goodness alive!" said the photograph man crossly. "You should have gone to the doctor's office instead of coming here."

"Let's catch him now," whispered Nick—meaning the goblin. "No—wait," said Mister Whizz. "Something more is going to happen."

STANDARD OIL CO. (NEW JERSEY)

A STANDARD FOR THE PEOPLE

millions now living will never die

After six thousand years of effort man points proudly to our present-day civilization as the acme of his attainments. A civilization stooping to brutalities too inhuman for savages, makes the standards of Christianity but empty and hollow professions. From this hypocrisy there is a tearing away. A spirit of lawlessness flouts laws and customs with an abandon that does not stop to consider the consequences. So persistent are the attempts for release. But what new standards—social, political, and religious—are to succeed the present?

In the fulfillment of prophecies, so marked at the present time, there is outlined a program that was foretold in the Bible, a standard that promises adoption, because present troubles were foretold as shaping the Standard for the People.

POLICE ARREST TWO YOUTHS ON ROBBERY COUNT

Young Men Are Caught When Neighbor Tells Police of Burglary

Kaukauna—Two local young men were arrested Sunday by the police department in connection with the robbery of the Kaukauna News stand about 2:30 Sunday morning. Several punch boards which held cash prizes aggregating $106 were taken. One of the young men is said to have confessed his part in the act.

A woman living near the news stand was awakened by the noise as the robbers attempted to pry the boards off a back window. She immediately called the police department. Both night officers, John Haid and John Kline, were in the station, the latter having just returned from a trip around the south side.

The policemen arrived at the south side in time to sight the two prowlers in front of the Elk club. They were called upon to stop but instead they started to run, dropping all their loot on the spot. They later were placed under arrest. Police decline to give their names to the public.

NEW LONDON DENTIST TO BE MARRIED JULY 21

MEET SUNDAY TO NAME BOARD TO BUILD CHURCH

Catholics Will Determine on Building Plans at Meeting of Congregation

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—The Most Precious Blood church of this city will hold a congregational meeting following low mass next Sunday morning. The purpose of the meeting is to appoint a building committee to build a new church to replace the one which burned down about a month ago. The congregation last Sunday voted unanimously in favor of tearing down the walls and remaining wreckage of the old church, and commencing work on a new edifice at once. The old debt of the congregation, amounting to about $20,000, will be paid off. This will leave about $35,000 in cash for rebuilding at the present time. A new rectory will, in all probability, be the first new building to be erected. The sentiment of the congregation seems to be in favor of building a church basement at first, which can probably be built and paid for with the surplus funds, instead of building an entire new church. This probably will be decided at the congregational meeting next Sunday morning.

The congregation started a new movement on Sunday morning when it declared itself unanimously in favor of a home trading policy. The pastor said that people who do their buying outside of the city usually are forced to pay cash for their purchases, but when they want credit they rely upon local business men. The congregation will try, as far as possible, to also carry out this plan when erecting its new church.

It was decided to hold a two day church picnic, on August 23 and 24, for the purpose of raising funds for the erection of the new church.

TURKEY BEGINS TO MISS SERVICE OF FOREIGNERS

By Associated Press
Angora, Turkey—Turkey is considering the establishment of a new system of education, to be based along French lines, and the first steps in this direction already have been taken.

It was decided last year to wipe out the schools conducted by the hojjas, or religious men, of which there were some 500, with 12,000 pupils, and now a proposal has been put forward by the minister of education to set up a new university at Angora, the city destined to be the political, military and educational headquarters of the country. All local private schools are to be brought under a central jurisdiction.

There is evidence here of a desire to encourage foreign capital to enter Turkey; the need of outside help in reconstruction is recognized. The justice against foreigners is lessening, for political leaders have begun to learn how difficult it is for Turks to accomplish many tasks that foreigners at one time did with ease.

STAGE And SCREEN

"AREN'T WE ALL" PRODUCED AS "A KISS IN THE DARK"

Frederick Lonsdale's immensely popular Broadway stage play, "Aren't We All," comes to the screen at the Appleton theatre Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday as "A Kiss in the Dark," a Paramount picture featuring Adolphe Menjou, Lillian Rich and Aileen Pringle.

The story, a highly entertaining comedy of marriage, is laid in Havana and New York. Menjou is cast in the role of Walter Grenham, a regular devil with the ladies. Because of his philandering ways, Janet Livingston, played by Miss Pringle, refuses to take him seriously when he proposes.

The arrival of pretty Betty King, in love with her husband and also interested in men in general, and Grenham in particular, messes things up a bit. Betty, warned time and again by Grenham, refuses to discount the flirtation and the upshot of the whole affair results in her being stranded on the dock, after returning with Grenham to her hotel after a box she had forgotten, while the boat with her husband and Janet pulls out for the States.

Even now Betty refuses to accept the situation as serious, rather she anticipates an interesting evening alone with Grenham.

Here's the situation. Betty is on Grenham's hands. Janet, on the boat, believes that he planned Betty's tardy arrival at the dock and is furious. She sends a wire to Grenham saying that because of this latest escapade everything is at an end between them.

How Grenham teaches Betty the error of her ways, manages to reconcile the late husband and patches things up to Janet's satisfaction makes "A Kiss in the Dark" one of the season's big laugh pictures.

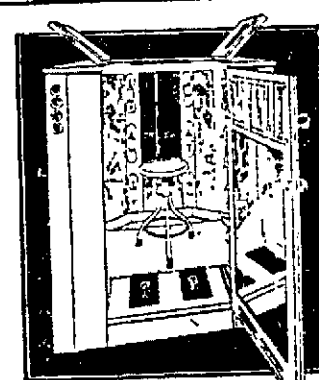

Cast includes Kenneth MacKenna and Ann Pennington. Also Our Gang in a two reel comedy "Big Fawn," latest news reel and novelties.

tant role in "The Streets of New York," at the New Bijou today and Tuesday.

Mr. King is a splendid character actor with a long string of triumphs to his credit, and it is expected that, great though his following is, it will be vastly augmented by the magnificent work which he does in "The Streets of New York."

He is seen in the role of Badger, a man of mystery who is equally at home in the black depths of New York's slums and in the drawing rooms of the city's smartest set. He it is who, in the tiny shack set perilously upon the very brink of a raging torrent, forces the arch-villain to

But to divulge here the secret of the astounding climax of "The Streets of New York" would be unfair to all those who have in store for them a rare cinema treat when that monster production is shown here at Appleton. Suffice to say that it will be an astounding revelation of just how far the art of motion picture making has advanced.

SILLS SCORES HIT IN FIRST STAR FILM

Heart interest, pathos, tragedy, love, suspense, thrills, laughs, excitement—all these are found in "The Making of O'Malley," the big First National feature picture showing at the Elite Theater today, tomorrow and Wednesday, with Milton Silles in the stellar role.

This is Milton Silles' first starring vehicle, and he is seen at his best in the role of a New York policeman. The story is laid in New York and interweaves the lives of a society girl who has tired of her social position and the policeman. There is a beautiful love theme running through the plot, at the end of which the policeman wins the wealthy girl. But the refining influence of the woman has had its effect on this two-fisted man of the force, and lifts him up to higher and finer appreciation of life. In short, O'Malley is a re-made man when the picture ends.

Not even in "The Sea Hawk" did Silles battle more effectively than he does in this picture. But beneath the gruffness of the "cop" lies a kind of spirit. Within his breast is a heart softened by pity and sentiment.

ADD INSURANCE FOR CHILDREN TO A. A. L. PLAN

Albert Voecks Is Renominated for Trustee by Directors at Meeting Here

Children's insurance, total permanent disability benefit and double amount of death benefit will be added to the forms of policies issued by the A. A. L. Association of Lutherans, according to action taken by the board of directors at the semi-annual meeting Friday at the offices in Insurance bldg. One trustee and three directors whose terms expire were renominated by the board.

With the addition of the children's insurance, it will be possible hereafter to insure every member of each Lutheran family within the Wisconsin-Missouri synod and a huge increase in the business handled by the national offices here is expected. The insurance and the other chances of policy are to be effective Jan. 1, 1926. Children's insurance will be similar to what is commonly known as industrial insurance, with policies limited to perhaps $500 in amount.

Each life insurance policy hereafter will carry a total permanent disability clause by which the holder will be permitted to draw out the face amount of his policy before death in case he is disabled so that he no longer can earn a livelihood. Exact provisions will be worked out before Jan. 1. The double indemnity clause will entitle the insured person's beneficiaries to twice the amount the policy stipulates in case death is accidental.

Albert Voecks, managing secretary of the association, was nominated for trustee for four years to succeed him self. Three directors whose terms expire also were nominated for reelection. They are: Alex. O. Benz, Ford du Lac, William F. Kelm, St. Paul; E. C. Toerkebohn, St. Louis, Mo. These names will go on the ballot which is submitted to all members of the association in December.

All of the directors were present at the sessions Friday. The board devoted both the morning and afternoon to transaction of business. A luncheon was held at noon at Conway hotel and a dinner in the evening at Hotel Northern.

NO OPEN SEASON TO SHOOT DEER

Law Provides for Deer Hunting Season Once Every
Two Years Hereafter

A number of hunters have not yet awakened to the fact there will be no open season on deer this year. The apparent lack of interest in the change of the game laws is expected to turn to a loud protest by the time the frost is in the ground, however.

As the matter now stands, the hunter who feels the yearning for the north woods and the hunt of the antlered monarch stirring in his vein next fall will have to hit to forests of other states and pay the extra fees levied upon non-resident hunters. There will be an open season only every second year hereafter.

John Hantschel, county clerk, who sells from 3,000 to 4,000 hunting licenses, including about 500 deer tags a year, realizes that the law is likely to reduce the number of applicants this year. This reduction is not expected to be very great, however, due to the fact that not every body who gets a deer tag actually goes on the hunt for the king of Wisconsin game.

GREEN BAY CONSIDERS CELEBRATION IN 1926

Green Bay Lions club has started a movement to interest the citizens of Green Bay in having a mammoth celebration on July 4 next year in observance of the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence.

A national festival is what the Lions club has in mind, with parades, parades and prominent officials of the federal government as speakers. The history of Green Bay, the oldest city in Wisconsin, and one of the six oldest cities on the American continent, would be stressed throughout the celebration, according to the plan. It is believed such a celebration would bring at least 100,000 visitors to Green Bay. A committee will be appointed in the near future to consider the proposition, and obtain the cooperation of the entire community if it is deemed advisable to go ahead with the plan.

HORTONVILLE IN PATH OF SEVERE WIND SATURDAY

Freak Storm Causes Damage in Various Parts of County—One Killed at Sturgeon Bay

Damage to buildings, crops and orchards was caused by the western part of the county by a brief but violent windstorm Saturday evening. The principal damage was in the vicinity of Hortonville, Stevensville and Sugar Bush.

Extremely hot weather of the afternoon and early evening was followed by a sudden turn between 8 and 9 o'clock. The sky clouded over, there was lightning and thunder and then a rush of wind which lasted only a few moments. It sent clouds of dust through the streets and made a huge throng of shoppers and autoists in the downtown district scatter to their homes. Rain kept up for more than half an hour here but was noticed only in spots in the country. Some communities reported hail which damaged crops and fruits.

NARROW PATH

The twister cut a swath about a hundred yards wide from Hortonville village northward toward Stevensville. It swooped down into the Hortonville fair grounds, uprooting or breaking off a number of trees. The Herman Starfield farm was in its path and the roof was lifted off his large arm barn, leaving the rafters exposed. At F. Fulmer's farm a shed, roof was blown off and a beet weeder's hut at the Hugo Tolzman place was unroofed. The wind also was felt at the Emil Fischer farm, where a stove was blown over. Practically the entire orchard at the Frank Fulmer farm was laid flat and many trees in Fred Leopold's woods were blown over.

There was considerable other damage done in this area of a less serious nature. Many trees were blown over and other orchards affected. Corn and grain were whipped about, broken down and laid flat. Parts of buildings were ripped off and loose objects carried for some distance. The farmers were given quite a scare, as they believed a real tornado was in progress.

Maple Creek township had its share of the damage. A machine shed at the John Ruckdassell farm was lifted off the foundation and set on the ground. The building was 30 by 150 feet in size and was partially wrecked. A binder housed within was broken and some of the other machinery damaged. One of Mr. Ruckdassell's sons was in the shed to escape the storm but escaped unhurt when the wind caught it.

ROOFS TORN OFF

Roofs were torn from sheds at the Albert Bubolz and Edward Hoffman farms, and a like prank was played with the garage at the George Hill place. Several chimneys also were targets for the wind and were blown over. One of these was at the residence of Roy Strossenreuther at Sugar Bush.

Large shade trees at the Charles Reinert home were blown over. Many orchards were hit severely and apple crops were ruined. Grain and other crops were flattened, but are expected to rise again except where the growth was extra heavy. Very little rain accompanied the wind.

In town of Liberty hail fell for a short period, causing considerable damage to fruit on trees and to corn and grain. Trees in this area also were affected.

There were no reports anywhere of injury to persons or of damage of any consequence to homes.

ONE MAN KILLED

Sturgeon Bay—Searchers Monday continued the task of attempting to recover the body of Frank Reynard, who along with three other men had sought protection in the shelter house on the Sawyer bridge, when it was blown into Green Bay by a freak wind and rain storm late Saturday. All were easily rescued but Reynard, who is believed to have been struck on the head by flying timber as he was caught up in the water. Two hundred feet of the walk on the bridge was torn loose.

The wind with a cyclonic force that lasted about five minutes uprooted trees and damaged property about the city. At the Swoboda hotel the front plate glass windows were wrecked.

The three men rescued were Christ Hanson, who suffered three broken ribs, Ademar McQuire, Menominee, shoulder broken and an unidentified Indian, injured about the head.

Mr. and Mrs. Shenke and children of Menasha, Mrs. Katherine Keefe of Menasha and Mrs. Michael Gainer and son Victor of Mackville visited friends in Seymour last week.

TWO MOTORCOPS MAKE 9 ARRESTS ON COUNTY ROADS

Alleged Speeders Ordered to Report in Court When Judge Is Appointed

Two county motorcops staged another "field day" over the weekend when line speeders were nabbed for hitting the high spots on the county roads. Sunday was the big day with Alfred Dunn taking care of three motorists and Andrew Miller, four more.

The other two victims were arrested by Dunn on Friday. All of the speeders were allowed to go free with the instructions to appear when a new municipal judge is appointed. Due to the death of Judge A. M. Spencer none of the alleged speeders could be arraigned.

Friday's arrests resulted from a game of "tag" played by Charles Schmitt of Appleton, and Herbert Fisch of Greenville on Highway 76. Both men discovered they were "it" when Officer Dunn decided that 43 miles an hour was too fast for a friendly game. Dunn's Sunday arrests were P. G. Miron, Appleton, hitting 41 miles an hour on highway 45; Ambrose Valenber, Appleton, traveling 45 an hour on the same road; Lawrence Roberts, New London, moving along at 44 miles an hour on highway 26. (Continued From Yesterday)

Suddenly Gloria stopped exercising. She sniffed the air with her delicate nostrils.

There was a smell of fresh coffee in the house . . . a delicious, appetizing smell!

Then Gloria heard footsteps on the stairs.

Had Maggie changed her mind and come back to work?

The door opened. In walked Dick, carrying a steaming tray.

"You didn't know I was a regular cook, did you?" Dick grinned.

"I certainly did not," Gloria laughed. "But isn't it nice for me that I married one. . . Let's see what you've ready for me, chef!"

Dick set the tray down on the bedside table. On it was a plate of sugary rolls that Maggie had baked the day before, silver dish filled with butter balls, and the steaming coffee.

"I made the coffee," Dick said, "and believe me, it's some brew strong enough to float an egg!"

"Where did you ever learn to make coffee?" Gloria idly asked. As a matter of fact, she didn't care where Dick had learned. The great thing was that he had made it!

"On camping trips when I was a kid," answered Dick. He put his arm around his wife and drew her down into his lap.

"I can boil bacon and fish and fry potatoes, too," he said proudly. "Honestly, Gloria, cooking isn't hard work. . . I wish you'd try it. I'd love to see you in a white apron fussing around the kitchen."

Instantly Gloria's good humor vanished.

"Oh, I don't doubt that you would!" she cried. "You'd love to see me flying around with a mop and a scrubbing brush, too! You'd be crazy about seeing me with my nails broken and my hair flying and my face haggard like Lola Hough's wouldn't you? . . . Well, you never will, Mr. Man! Because I'll never be a slave for you or anybody else! . . . And a new maid comes into this house today or I walk out of it! See?"

She jumped up from Dick's knees. She threw herself face-downward on her bed, and burst into angry tears.

"Now, don't start that hysterical stuff!" Dick pleaded. There was fear in his voice. . . a man's fear of a woman's tears.

"I didn't say you couldn't have a housemaid, sweetkins," he went on gently. "If it takes every cent I have, you shall have one. . . but I guess every man dreams of seeing his wife doing little jobs around the home he's made for her. . . What's marriage, anyway, but the joy of a man and a woman building a nest for the children they hope to have?"

Gloria sat up suddenly and put her arms around Dick's neck.

She leaned back let her brilliant eyes rest in his.

"Is that what marriage means to you, Ricky-Ticky-Tavy?" she asked. "Doesn't it mean me? . . . Doesn't it mean love and bliss, too, to you? . . . just a little bit?"

She took his head between her hand and kissed him on his forehead. Dick held her close.

"You know you're the only thing to me," he said solemnly. "You know you hold my whole life in the palm of one of your hands. And it's because I do love you that I want this house to be a home for both of us. . . and after awhile, for our babies."

Gloria said nothing at all.

The telephone rang.

Gloria jumped up to answer it.

"Yes?" she said.

Stanley Wayburn's voice came to her over the wire.

"Well, . . . how's my Russet this morning?" he said.

"Very well," Gloria answered stiffly. She knew that Dick was listening.

"Have you forgiven me for playing around with your friends, Myra?" Stan asked. "Or are you still green-eyed about it?"

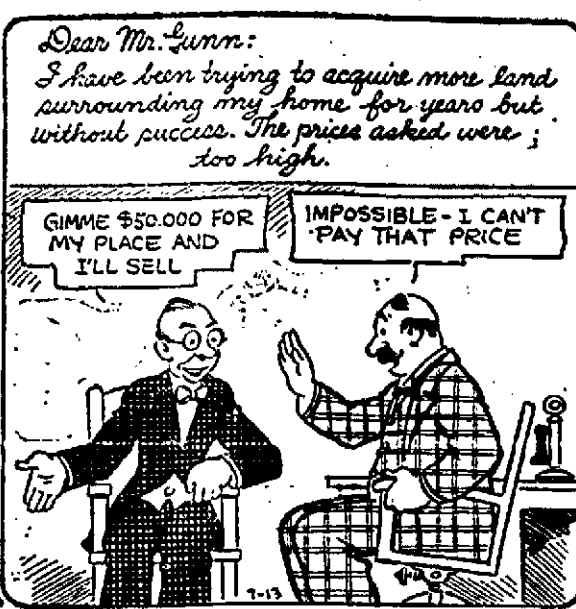

Gloria knew that she couldn't answer that question, with Dick right there in the room. And she could feel an uncomfortable flush spreading itself over her face and neck. . . At that moment she wished Stanley Wayburn on the other side of the world!

WAUSAU WINS LAURELS IN TRI-CITY TENNIS MATCH

Oshkosh And Appleton Defeated In Singles And Doubles Saturday

Fans Disappointed at Inability of George LaBorde, Lawrence Star, to Play in Tourney.

Wausau Saturday upset the dope bucket completely by copping first in both the singles and doubles matches of the tri-city tennis tournament here, in which the Appleton Y. M. C. A. teams and the Oshkosh Tennis association legged behind. The day was extremely hot and for that reason several games near the end of the afternoon were defaulted.

The best doubles games of the afternoon was played between Dyson and Zaumeyer of Appleton and Kitz and Peterson of Oshkosh. The Appleton team took the first set, 6-4, but in the second the invaders forged ahead, 6-3. The third set was fast and furious despite the heat, and after a hard battle Appleton took the set, 7-5, and with it the match.

LA BORDE MISSING
Tennis fans here were disappointed when George LaBorde, Lawrence star, was unable to play with the Oshkosh team as had been announced. His absence probably cost Oshkosh the laurels, for LaBorde is doped as the outstanding star of the Sawdust city team.

The matches were played on the Buttes des Morts Golf club, Saturday, all of which were in good condition for this event. Scores in the opening matches of the singles were as follows: H. Frame, Wausau, defeated J. Hantschel, Appleton, 6-3, 6-4; J. Benton, Wausau, beat Clippinger, Appleton, 6-2, 6-2; Appel, Wausau, defeated McMillan, Oshkosh, 6-0, 6-2; Lauritzen, Oshkosh, beat Schmidt, Wausau, 3-6, 8-6, 6-4.

TAKEN BY DEFAULT
Benton and Frame, both Wausau winners in the first matches, did not play off their second match but Benton was placed in the semi-finals by agreement. Appel survived his match with Lauritzen, beating him 6-0, 6-0, while Peterson took his match with Dyson by default. Peterson drew the bye for the semi-finals, but defaulted to Appleton the finals and thereby gave the Wausau man the match.

In the doubles Oshkosh represented by Frenz and Witzel easily ousted Clippinger and Hantschel, 6-3, 6-3. Benton and Frame of Wausau took their match, 6-2, 6-3, from Hill and Eads, Appleton, while Dyson and Zaumeyer, Appleton, had a hard time downing Peterson and Kitz of Oshkosh, 6-4, 3-6, 7-5. Appel and Schmidt of Wausau drew the bye.

Meeting the Oshkosh team, Frenz and Witzel, Benton and Frame of Wausau took the semi-finals match, 6-4, 6-3, while Dyson and Zaumeyer, Appleton, defaulted to Wausau, represented by Appel and Schmidt, who themselves defaulted in the finals, in which their team mates, Benton and Frame were declared winners.

LITTLE CHUTE SWAMPS FREEDOM TEAM, 9 TO 2

Little Chute Sunday afternoon swamped the Freedom baseball team, 9 to 2, in a fast game at Freedom. Vanderstein allowed the Freedom swatters seven hits while the invaders collected ten. A couple of errors by Freedom fielders gave the invaders an added advantage. Vanderstein retired ten men by the strikeout route, and Vanleif nine. Casey Jansen umpired the game. The batteries were Vanleif and Brockhaus for Freedom, Vanderstein and Hartjes for Little Chute.

Next Sunday the Little Chute team meets an invasion of the Deyer Sentinels of Appleton.

Hargrave Wins Real Job As Lefthanded Swatter

BY BILLY EVANS
In baseball minor happenings often do much to shape the career of a player, making for failure or success. Catcher "Red" Hargrave, of the St. Louis Browns, is wondering if Fate hasn't been mighty unkind to him for several years.

Three years ago Hargrave joined the Washington club of the American league. He was secured from New Haven, Conn., of the Eastern league. In the minors Hargrave had always been a turn batter but much preferred hitting from the left side of the plate.

After Chief Bender, famous Indian pitcher of the Athletics, passed the majors, he held down several managerial berths in the minors, among them the New Haven club. Bender it seems decided Hargrave was a natural right-handed batter and ordered him to cut out his lefthanded efforts. He met with excellent success and was known as an extra lefthander.

NERELY SPECTATOR
When he joined the Washington club, his record as a right-handed batter preceded him and the suggestion made by him that he hit either way didn't receive much encouragement.

During his stay at Washington, Hargrave was little more than a spectator. The brilliant slug, able to wot-

SETS NEW MARK

Frank Walsh, professional at the Buttes des Morts Golf club, Saturday went over the 18-hole course in 63, setting a record that promises to stand for some time. This score is six below par for the course which has been adjudged a difficult one by outside visitors.

WALSH SHOOT 65 AS NEW LOW MARK

Buttes des Morts Pro Smash- es Own Record, Taking Eagle on Fourth Hole

Shooting a 65 over the 18-hole Buttes des Morts course here Saturday, Frank Walsh, club professional set a new mark for the course bettering his own previous record of 68 which he had made two weeks ago. Walsh was accompanied on his round by Heber H. Pelkey and Fred Woelz, members of the club. His putting was perfect, according to their accounts, and he required only 29 putts instead of the 35 counted as par. Going out Walsh took a 31 for the first hole, 5 under par. He made the first two in par, 4, the second in 3 and took an eagle 3 on the fourth, the most difficult hole in the course. On his return he made it in 34, one under par.

Walsh's card going out was 4, 4, 3, 3, 5, 3, 3, 3—31, coming in it was 3, 3, 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 4—34. Par for the course is 4, 4, 5, 3, 5, 3, 4, 4—36, and 4, 4, 3, 4, 4, 4, 3, 5—35.

TWILIGHT LOOP CHIEFS WILL MEET IN Y. M. C. A.

Representatives of the six teams in the City Twilight Baseball league will hold their midseason meeting at 7:30 Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A., to discuss the status of the various clubs and any complaints that may be made.

On Monday afternoon the league leading Post-Crescents are due to clash with the tailend Chair Co. club at Jones park. The Inklingers are doped to cop easily. They have lost but one game so far this season, while the Chair Co. has won one and lost five.

Hargrave Wins Real Job As Lefthanded Swatter

every day, kept Hargrave either a bench-warmer or performing in one bull pen getting some relief pitcher ready. Occasionally, he got a chance as pinch-hitter with varying success. Always he batted from the right side of the plate. Several times he requested a chance to hit left-handed but nothing doing.

Then came the trade that brought him to St. Louis. Manager Sisler of the Browns sent the veteran catcher, Hank Severed to Washington, getting a battery, Morigre and Hargrave in return.

FOUR HOMERS WIN JOB
One week after joining the St. Louis club, Hargrave had won himself a regular berth on the catching staff. His hitting did it. "Do you care if I bat left-handed?" was one of the first questions Hargrave asked Manager Sisler. "I don't care how you bat just so you turn in some base hits," replied Sisler.

In his first game against Detroit, batting left-handed, Hargrave made a single, double and home run in three times up. His circuit drive brought the first big league defeat to Owen Carroll. Holy Cross pitching star.

In one week of play Hargrave made four home runs and every one of them figured in a St. Louis victory.

MURRAY BEGINS TO BRUSH UP ON FOOTBALL PLANS

Marquette Mentor Centers Early Attention on Game With Navy, Oct. 10

MILWAUKEE—Coach Frank J. Murray of the Marquette university football squad already is making plans for next fall's Marquette gridiron campaign, and particularly is he centering his attention on work on the Navy game at Annapolis, Oct. 10.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT
This will be a return engagement with Uncle Sam's middies on the shores of Chesapeake bay and the turs are anxious to avenge the 21 to 3 defeat which Marquette handed them there on a historic October day last fall. Navy is under a new coaching regime this year and indications are that the new staff will attempt to make good by bowling over Marquette early in the year.

Thus far, Marquette football players have not been told when to report for early fall training on the island at Lake Bouah, Wis., but Coach Murray expects to take his huskies to that resort as early as possible in order to prepare for the Navy and other heavy early season games.

SEE STRONG TEAM

Marquette should have one of the strongest teams in the history next fall, as only three lettermen were lost through graduation in June and the oncoming sophomore material looks excellent. Coach Murray, a Tufts graduate, will be assisted in his work by Freeman Fitzgerald, Notre Dame; Lloyd Scott, Colgate, and Edgar Leavenworth, Detroit. Francis Lane, Merrill, Wis., a tackle, is the 1925 captain.

The schedule for the Golden Archane this year includes games with Navy, Kansas Aggies, Creighton, Mercer, South Dakota State, North Dakota, Lombard, Lyola, and St. Mary's.

SENTINELS BLANK GREENVILLE, 2-0

Beyermen Start Scoring in Eighth to Win Best Game of Season

Beyermen's Sentinels Sunday afternoon invaded Greenville and there shut out their hosts, 2 to 0, in the best game of the season. Not a run was scored up to the eighth stanza, although Greenville had the bases loaded once in the third and again in the fourth. The Sentinels started hitting in the eighth inning. Then Phillips crashed out a threebagger, followed by McCoy's safety which gave him his chance to cross the rubber. The second tally came in the final inning off a bit and a long fly.

Stegeman allowed the Greenville outfit but two hits and the Sentinels got three off Kranzsch. Three errors were costly for Greenville, helping the Beyermen to their runs. The Sentinels had only one boot chalked up against them. Kranzsch and Stegeman each allowed two walks.

The batteries: Sentinels—Stegeman and Ashman, Greenville—Kranzsch and Catler.

GOLF As Champions Play It

TRICKY SHOTS WITH THE MIDIRON

DON'T attempt them or Keep your game simple and effective!

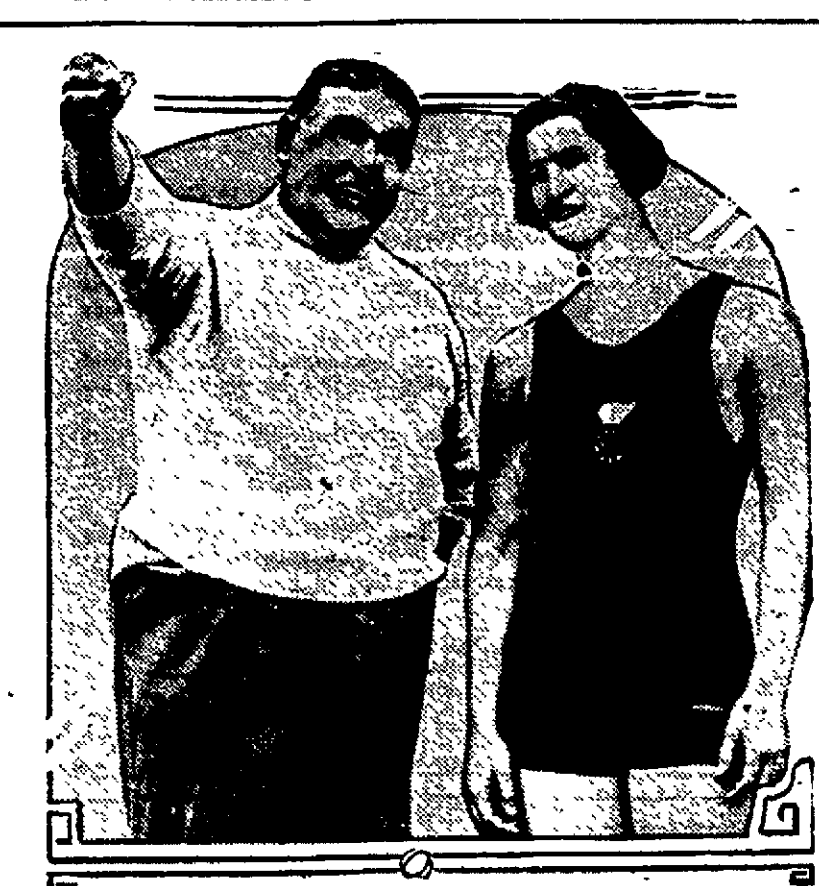

SHOULD ONE ATTEMPT A "TRICKY" SHOT WITH THE MIDIRON?

BY BOB CRICKSHANK
ONE OF THE HARDER HOLE ROL. My solid advice to the average, or as a matter of fact to any golfer, is to avoid any kind of "tricky" shots. My own motto is to try and make every shot as simple as I possibly can. The midiron, for the great majority, is a simple enough club and certainly much easier to play than a driver or brassie. Therefore, why try to make it harder? The game is hard enough right now.

There are times, however, when one has to employ various methods other than orthodox to get out of trouble. A hook perhaps is needed, or maybe a slice, but even these are simplified by a slight change of grip or stance. Forget these tricky shots and think only of the simple and easy way to the hole that is most natural to you. (Copyright, 1925, Associated Editors, Inc.)

PIRATES STILL TOP LOOP AFTER LOSS TO ROBINS

Washington and Philadelphia Triumph in American League Sunday

By Associated Press
New York—The Pirates were still leading the National league Monday morning, notwithstanding a Sabbath defeat by Brooklyn. Zach Taylor of Brooklyn did his best for his neighbors by being out a home run in the ninth, to make the score 4 to 3, but meanwhile Chicago upset the Giants in a 16-inning pout at the Polo Grounds and the Corsairs still a few points higher up the ladder than New York.

With Chicago one run ahead of the Giants and the bases loaded, Gabby Hartnett's disgust over rulings of the umpire took form in a wild heave. Young promptly raced home with the tying run, forcing the game into extra innings.

In the eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth the Cubs threatened, but the leading run did not come until Grimm doubled in the sixteenth. The final score was 9 to 8.

Balancing the twin defeat of leading National league contenders, both Washington and Philadelphia triumphed in the American. St. Louis Browns fell before an eighth-inning rally by the champions, 5 to 3, while Eddie Rommel gave the Tigers but a single run as he scattered eight hits to yank the Athletics out of their slump, 8 to 1.

Reddy Lyons of the White Sox blanked the Yankees with five hits to 3 to 0, and Cleveland smothered the Red Sox under 18 hits to breeze home, 13 to 2.

GOODRICH FAVORED TO BEAT SOUTH AMERICAN

New York—The going will call forth contenders for two championship-ship Saturday night in metropolitan ring.

At Long Island City warriors of two continents will square off for a lightweight title relinquished by Benny Leonard through retirement. Stanislaus Loayza of Chile will meet Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, N. Y., in a 15-round decision battle as the final lightweight elimination tournament of the New York State Athletic commission.

Goodrich, clever and aggressive, rules a favorite. Loayza, undefeated since he came to this country several months ago, picked up the trail of Luis Firpo in a final attempt to bring South America its first pugilistic title.

Paul Berlenbach will defend his newly acquired light heavyweight title against Young Marullo of New Orleans in a 12-round, no decision contest at Newark, N. J.

WALKER ASKS $50,000 FOR GO WITH MITCHELL

Chicago—Mickey Walker, Ellzabethown, N. J., welterweight champion, Sunday asked through his manager, Jack Kearns, for $50,000 to meet Pinky Mitchell in a ten-round bout at the Wisconsin State Fair Grounds, Milwaukee, Labor Day. Walter J. Long and Frank Fawcett, promoters, together with Bill Mitchell, manager of his brother, conferred with Kearns throughout the afternoon without definite result. Kearns finally agreed tentatively to match the welterweight champion with Mitchell, the junior welterweight boss, providing Mitchell decisively defeats Willie Hermann of New York in their ten-round bout Aug. 14, in Milwaukee.

MACKS BOAST ELEVEN HITTERS IN TOP ROW

Philadelphia — The Athletics have 11 batters in the .300 circle with Bill Lamar topping the regulars with a mark of .394. Simmons and Hale are close behind.

Other everyday players who are hitting well include, Cochran, Miller, Poole, Dykes and Welch. Bishop is hitting close to the .300 class. Galloway is the only regular far down the list. He's batting but .248.

At this writing the Macks are leading the league in hitting which is small wonder considering the coterie of 300 swatters the lanky Cornelius possesses.

BUD GORMAN MAY GET NEW CHANCE IN FEATURE BOUT

Racine Heavyweight's Manager Gets Many Requests for Battle

Racine—Since his splendid showing in the battle recently with Young Stribling at Detroit, Mich., Bud Gorman, the Racine and Kenosha heavyweight is now being deluged with requests for bouts from managers of leading scrappers.

Joe Sarno, one of the promoters of the Stribling bout is to sponsor another headline card on July 27 at the Coliseum and he has wired Neary to have Bud in shape for the feature bout. Three weeks off are now searching for an opponent for Gorman with either Jim Maloney, Boston, Jack Sharkey or Bartley Madden.

MULLEN WANTS BUD
Neary received a wire from Jim Mullen, East Chicago promoter recently, offering terms for Bud to meet Gene Tunney, on an all-star heavyweight card July 17. However, Bud is having some dental plumbing done and will be unable to perform for a few weeks. Dr. Harry Hyman, the celebrated dentist who probably saved Benny Leonard from lockjaw after Benny had several teeth cracked which caused a bad infection after the Tender battle, extracted three teeth for Gorman.

While Gorman is having his teeth properly treated, Neary is receiving a flock of offers for scraps. Ad. Thatcher wants Bud to box in Toledo the first week in August. Eddie Mead, of Boston can use him with either Maloney or Sharkey; Eddie Mead, former manager of Joe Lynch who is now matchmaker at Chadwick Park, Albany, N. Y., wants him for Ad. Stone, while Philadelphia promoters are anxious to hook Bud up with King Solomon. However, Solomon's managers don't want him to fight Bud to a decision, preferring a no decision contest.

Neary writes that he and Gorman expect to visit in Kenosha for a few days as soon as Bud gets through with his dental scrap on July 27. His opponent for the scraps will be definitely announced soon. Initially announced soon. Predicts new records in 3 col sport.

COAL ONCE DEARER THAN GOLD IN ALASKAN CAMP

By Associated Press
Nome, Alaska—In the early days of the coal was more precious than the yellow metal panned from the mountain streams and on the Bering Sea beach.

The only places of business that had enough coal were saloons. An old timer prospector made a coat with a sack inside. Each evening he would go to the "North Star Wine Palace" and sit down by the coal box. When no one was looking, he would place a lump of coal in his sack, go to the bar for a drink, and return to his cabin. He did this until the proprietor, Pat Cleary, noticed his coal supply dwindling. One night the prospector stayed too long and filled his sack too heavily so that when he tried to rise the weigh dinged him down. Cleary pounced on him, made him disgorge the coal and drove him outside.

Laughing heartily the saloonkeeper called out: "Everybody step up, the drinks are on me. It's the first time anybody ever mined coal in Pat Cleary's camp."

ASSERTS FOOD HABITS WEAKEN BRITISH RACE

London—The food habits of the people of Great Britain have been growing steadily worse for the last 150 years and consequently undermining the beauty and physical fitness of the race, according to Lieutenant-Colonel Robert McCarrison, of the Indian medical service. His contention is that people here do not get the necessary amount of vitamins in their food and without vitamins the normal chemical action of the body cannot properly proceed. He advocates the eating of wholesome, green vegetables and fruit and the drinking of milk.

Colonel McCarrison said not long ago he traveled all through Great Britain, but while he saw the beauty of the English countryside he did not see much beauty in the English race. That was partly explained by the fact that he did not see a piece of wholemeal bread and the fruit he saw was mostly tinned.

SUNDAY'S RESULTS
APPLETON 7, CAMPBELLSPORT 6.
Oshkosh 3, Plymouth 1.
Chilton 15, Fond du Lac 14.

Appleton climbed within easy striking distance of third place in the Eastern Wisconsin loop Sunday afternoon when the Baetzmen handed Campbellsport its second defeat, 7 to 6, while Oshkosh was defeating the leading Plymouth outfit 3 to 1, and Chilton nosed out Fond du Lac, 15 to 14.

With the exception of the game at Grand park here every contest in the loop upset the pre-game dope Sunday. All the games were well played and close, with an exciting finish to keep the fans on their toes until the last man was retired.

Campbellsport made all of its six runs in the fifth inning off of four hits, fielders choices and an error, while the Baetzmen copped out in the second, third and fifth, three in the sixth and the winning tally in the ninth. Homeruns by Baetz, C. Tornov errors mared the day for Appleton. Schultz, Appleton third baseman, also crashed out a twobagger, while Tornov hit two safeties in addition to his homer.

H. Tornow, Thein and Gosha staged a pretty doubleplay to help things along for the Baetz outfit, and only two errors mared his day for Appleton. Three bunts were chalked up against the visitors.

H. Tornow allowed eight hits, while his mates were gathering ten off L. Schramm's offerings. Al Gosha, switched from mshort to first base, covered his station in fine form taking 12 chances without faltering.

Bringing 'Em Together

The trend of modern civilization has been to draw closer the lines between individuals everywhere. The mission that most public services perform for people today is-to bring them together.

The railways, the telephone, the telegraph, the radio, have put people in more immediate touch with their fellow-citizens-of the same city or three thousand miles away.

Much the same process has been going on in the world of supply and demand. Advertising is bridging the gap between buyers and sellers.

Here in Appleton one of the most convenient and serviceable connecting links between people who have what you want to buy or want what you have to sell is the Post-Crescent's Classified Section.

It will keep you in close touch with daily opportunities to save money and gain comfort and satisfaction.

Read the A-B-C Classified Section regularly!
